

What is Fair Representation in Redistricting?

It is a funder collaborative dedicated to achieving fair and equitable district maps with a focus on communities of color. This funder collaborative follows on the heels of the very successful funder collaborative to promote a fair and accurate census. Redistricting is the next step after census and will determine whether communities are fairly and equitably represented for the next decade.

Fair Representation in Redistricting Goals

Goal #1: Draw Maps that Fairly Represent People in the Community

Goal #2:
Ensure that the Map
Drawing Process is Open and Transparent

Goal #3:
Ensure that Communities of Color & Other
Historically Underrepresented
Communities
Have a Voice in the Process

- Focus on States. Direct resources to community organizing in 14 priority states.
- Use Total Population. Address census data quality to ensure an accurate count. Counter efforts to base district maps only on eligible voters, not the total population.
- Provide Tools and Assistance. Help state groups with technical issues, such as how to draw district maps in a fair manner and assist them with legal guidance.
